UNIVERSITY ART GALLERY AND MUSEUM DISPLAY OF PHOTOGRAPHS

The University Art Gallery and Museum has organized an eclectic exhibition of photography which will be displayed from 26 October to 18 November. It uses, as a nucleus, three portfolios of prints by two of America's foremost photographers, Ansel Adams and Brett Weston.

Ansel Adams, born in 1902, was an important member of the California group of photographers that founded F 64, a loosely-knit assembly devoted to the concept of clear, detailed, and sharply focussed photography devoid of any sentimental "painted" techniques. In fact, the association's name, F 64, refers to the stop on a camera that gives a large depth of field and a sharp focus. F 64 believed that the photograph is a work of art in its own right and should not imitate canvas. Theirs was a reaction to the popularity of the soft lines and artificial tinting which dominated photography of the period. Ansel Adams's work reflects his desire to present subject matter with disciplined objectivity. The photographs on display are a documentation of his travels in the mountains of the High Sierra.

Brett Weston is the son of Edward Weston, an associate of Ansel Adams and fellow-member of F 64. Working with his father, Brett Weston became an accomplished and professional photographer by the age of fifteen. He was among the group of California photographers who were featured in the major exhibitions held at the M.H. de Young Museum in San Francisco in 1932 and 1933. The portfolio on display, "White Sands," contains photographs of the White Sands National Monument gypsum dunes. They were taken while Weston was stationed in El Paso, Texas, in 1945, and again after the war when he was awarded a post-service Guggenheim Fellowship, the first such award to be granted for photography. Weston's work is part of the tradition which includes that of Adams. It is simple, direct. Each photograph reveals the essence of his subject matter.

Included in the exhibition will be a series of forty black and white photographs entitled "Hutterites by Spiteri," produced by the National Film Board of Canada, Still Photography Division. Spiteri won the National Association of Photographic Arts gold medal for color photography in 1971 and in the following year won the same Association's gold medal for contemporary photography. A second group of photographs from the National Film Board, "Milton Park. Montreal," is by Clara Gutsche. She has photographed the slow and unrelenting transformation of a district in Montreal which was once a vital and homogenous environment for its inhabitants. Milton Park has now vanished; skyscrapers have taken its place.

Spiteri

Works by Bernd Hildebrandt and Hilary Fedoruk, both graduates of this University, are also featured. Hildebrandt's photographs are a personal documentation of the forms that boats on Lake Obed present at various seasons of the year. Fedoruk's work is from a series done in 1974 concerning frames and the effect they have on our perception of form, space, and depth. Harry Savage, a well-known Edmonton artist, will exhibit ten photographs taken at Saddle Lake Indian Reserve.

The University Art Gallery and Museum is located directly south of the Faculty Club off Saskatchewan Drive and east of 116 Street. The hours are 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, and 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. There is no admission charge.

HOUSING REGISTRY A SUCCESS

Despite the housing shortage in Edmonton, the Students' Union Housing Registry met with considerable success this summer. After a slow start the Registry reached a total of 1,450 listings for the period from 1 June to 30 September (only 113 less than last year's total). An estimated 1,750 students found accommodation through the Registry.

Registry Director Harald Kuckertz says he is very pleased with the Registry's success: "Considering the tight housing market in Edmonton we have had a substantial amount of listings. I'd like to express my sincere thanks to all the landlords who have made accommodation available to students. Hopefully next year the situation will improve with the recent increases in construction starts."

The cost of the Registry for the four summer months is estimated at $12,500. The Registry is financed from a grant from the Board of Governors and Students' Union fees. The Registry will continue to operate on a part-time basis during the winter, with listings of available accommodation posted on bulletin boards around the campus. To contact the Registry telephone 432-4212.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

Among the items discussed at its special meeting on 22 October 1976, the Board of Governors considered the report of the General Faculties Council ad hoc Committee on the Restructuring of the Office of Student Affairs. The Board isolated the following matters from the Committee's report as being specifically Board responsibility.

The appointment of a full-time Dean of Students

The report defined this position as follows: "The Office of Student Affairs is to be a major source of information and assistance to students within the University. The Dean of Students is the chief administrator of the Office of Student Affairs. This is a full-time academic appointment requiring administrative capability as well as a sensitivity to people."

The Board approved the creation of this position, amending its description to delete the word "academic."

Foreign Student Advisor

The Board recommended that the position of Foreign Student Advisor continue.

Part-time appointment of a student ombudsman

The report recommended that the creation of the position of ombudsman to deal only with student grievances and to report directly to the President of the University. Although the Board declined to approve the creation of this position, the members suggested that they would prefer to deal with this question at some future time when it came as a recommendation from the Dean of Students. Meanwhile, the responsibility for assisting with student grievances would lie with the Dean of Students.

Appointment of Student Advocates

The Board supported in principle the appointment of Student Advocates who, lacking an Ombudsman, would report to the Dean of Students. The Board noted, however, that it could not, in fact, approve the creation of these positions because they were to be funded by the Students' Union.

REPORT ON STUDENT ACTIVITIES

The following report on the activities and plans of the Students' Union was presented by Students' Union President Len Zoeteman to the University's Board of Governors at their meeting on 22 October.

Each undergraduate student at the University of Alberta is a member of the Students' Union. Full membership fee is $34 for the Winter Session. The total budget for 1976-77 is $2.6 million. A portion of this budget accounts for the fourteen business operations and thirteen service operations we are offering the students this year. The objective of the business operations is to provide a product to students at a reduced cost, while the service operations function without charge to students. It should be noted that all grant requests to the Board relate to service projects and do not supplement income in the business area.

The emphasis of the Students' Union will be centered essentially around three areas. These areas are: (1) increasing student awareness and involvement; (2) streamlining our administration and increasing our operational efficiency; (3) stimulating public interest with respect to the University and developing better communication lines between the Students' Union and the community at large.

Increasing student awareness and involvement

In previous years, students have been criticized for poor participation on University and GFC Committees. In some instances, seats on these committees were never filled by students due to a lack of interest. However, across campus this year there has been a substantial increase in student willingness to get involved in the decision-making process. Not only are all committee and council seats for students filled, or in the process of being filled, but there is also a waiting list to replace any vacancies.

Student input at GFC can improve if more students are informed on the background of issues coming to the floor of GFC. Hence, we are arranging for a student meeting within one week of each GFC meeting to discuss the agenda and answer any questions. It is hoped this will be one step toward improving student input.

One of the greatest challenges this year is to establish student counselling by students at the faculty level. Often, first and second year students are not knowledgeable about courses offered in different departments or faculties. Guidance in this area is vital if a student is to graduate with a well-rounded degree. The primary purpose of the counselling will be (a) to provide general information to students at a peer group level; (b) to recommend courses which are best suited to a student's interests; and (c) to recommend professors of specific courses who would be of greatest interest and help to the individual student.

On 9 November 1976, we will be partaking in what will be known across Canada as National Students' Day. Although campus activities are likely to vary considerably depending upon the institution, our primary objective is to inform students about post-secondary education. We also wish to inform the public about many of the problems students and our institution in general face today, as well as the contribution both sectors make to society. Thus, we will use this day to draw student and public attention to our University, and to point out alternatives which would serve our educational and social functions. In short, we are optimistic about the overall potential of this day.

It is our belief that a sound education requires a balance between academic and extra-curricular activities. To emphasize the importance of this, the Students' Union will be initiating a gold medal award for academic and extra-curricular excellence. It is hoped that a prestigious award such as this will underline the importance of a well-rounded education, and reinforce the need for responsible social contribution.

Streamlining our administration and increasing our operational efficiency

In April, a consultant study was conducted of our management information and accounting requirements. It was made clear to us that our present system was considerably inadequate in terms of providing reliable accounting information for a day-to-day control of business and service operations or for purposes of forecasting cash flow and budget expenditures.

It was decided that the first step to alleviate this problem was to adopt a new code of accounts and to purchase a mini-computer to act as our major accounting and reporting system. Implementation will take place in October. Not only will we have instant and accurate financial information, but it is also expected that the system will pay for itself before the end of the academic year.

Over the years it has become evident that that professionalism is vital if businesses are to function economically. Hence, at present we have a General Manager, Finance Manager,

One of the dancers who helped open Native Awareness Week at the University on 12 October.

Richard Kerr

Building Manager, and seven supervisors managing the business affairs of the Students' Union. Because the University now owns HUB, our number of full time employees is approximately forty-five.

External Affairs

In an attempt to make the public more aware of what is taking place on campus and what The University has to offer to them, we are planning several projects to improve our external relations. A community involvement week is being planned whereby students will be going out to the community to offer their skills and ability as resources to the public. Secondly, we will attempt to initiate a charity fund raising drive for the spring of next year. Student leaders are being encouraged to speak to their respective Members of Parliament or Members of the Legislative Assembly to indicate that students are becoming increasingly interested in the decision-making processes which affect them.

Various faculty associations are also engaging in fund raising projects for charity as well as volunteering their time for worthwhile community endeavors. Students in Residence are now coordinating an extensive program whereby each floor of students will be joining two other floors to develop a community oriented project. The group with the best project will be given a free party at the expense of the other students in Residence.

Student services

All of the money which has been granted by the Board has been allocated to specific service operations. We wish to indicate to Board members what is being done with your money grants.

Freshman Orientation Seminars

Two types of seminars are conducted for freshman students. They are a three-day weekend seminar held over the course of the summer and a one-day seminar conducted over two weeks prior to the beginning of classes. Approximately 2,300 freshmen students participated in this year's seminars—roughly 45 percent more than last year. It is estimated with a high degree of certainty that approximately one hundred students were involved in leading the Freshmen Orientation Seminars.

Student Housing Registry

Due to an extremely tight housing situation in the city, the Housing Registry has proven to be an invaluable service to students. Total listings since 1 May for students are 1,420.

Although many of the listings did not meet students' preferences, it was still possible to match housing supply with student demand.

As many of you are aware, the provincial government did a study of student housing. Some questions resulting from the report were "what are student preferences in terms of housing" and "what is the demand for on- and off-campus housing." Two days after we received the report, a questionnaire examining these concerns and others was developed and during Registration Week was randomly distributed to 10,000 students. Our final report from the data is planned to be released 1 February 1977.

Student Help

This year Help is anticipating thirty volunteer staff to aid in "crisis intervention" on campus. In the past, the office was open twelve hours per day on weekdays and three hours per day on weekends. The goal this year is to expand the service to twenty-four hours per day on weekdays and twelve hours per day on weekends. Approximately thirty-five to forty staff will be needed for this additional service.

It is again expected that Help will assist an estimated two thousand students this year. If office hours double on weekdays, this number is anticipated, naturally, to be even higher. The quality of crisis intervention work is expected to improve again this year as greater emphasis is being placed upon educating the volunteer staff through seminars and outside resource people. Closer communications with Student Counselling is a priority.

CKSR Radio

CKSR will again be fully revived after several years of dormancy. At present, approximately eighty students are involved with the operation on a four hours per week basis. Emphasis is based on variety music, unlike commercial radio stations. Although one of the objectives is to train students in radio broadcasting, we also hope that this service will bring the University out to the city through our cable television transmissions.

Residence

Concerns were raised at the Board in April regarding the high number of vacancies in Residence while people were stating we were amid a housing crisis. No doubt the life-style in Residence has been discussed. This concern was taken to the students in Residence and a two-day seminar was held. The purpose of the seminar was to discuss the objectives of Residence through resource people such as Bill Presching of Institutional Research, Neil Henry from the Senate, Ruth Groberman, Acting Dean of Students, and Mel Finley of the Preventive Social Services Department of the government. Approximately two hundred student leaders in Residence attended the two-day conference. In short, a positive move is being made this year to improve the quality of life in Residence through emphasis on privacy, regulated quiet hours, and a greater willingness to involve first year students actively in a variety of Residence programs.

Conclusion

The overriding goal of the Students' Union this year is to keep students informed and involved. It is hoped that a goal such as this will serve to give students a greater appreciation of what university has to offer.

We thank the Board of Governors for their interest in student affairs and the financial support they have given us this year and in previous years. No doubt the students on this campus have benefited directly from cooperation between the Board of Governors and the Students' Union.

APPLICATIONS SOUGHT FOR DEAN OF STUDENTS

Pursuant to the approval given for the creation of the position of Dean of Students by General Faculties Council on 27 September and the Board of Governors on 22 October, nominations and applications are being sought for this position.

The position of Dean of Students is described as follows: "The Office of Student Affairs is to be a major source of information and assistance to students within the University. The Dean of Students is the chief administrator of the Office of Student Affairs. This is a . . . full-time appointment requiring administrative capability as well as a sensitivity to people."

A selection committee for this position has already been struck by General Faculties Council and wishes to act on this appointment as soon as possible. Nominations and applications, with appropriate vitae and names of references, should be sent to the Committee in care of Jean Lauber, Associate Vice-President (Academic), 3-2 University Hall, by 15 November 1976.

Both men and women are invited to apply.

ALBERTA ART FOUNDATION

Norman Yates, Professor of Art and Design, has been appointed Chairman of the Board of the Alberta Art Foundation. Mr. Yates has served as a member of the Board for two years.

Established in 1972, the Alberta Art Foundation's prime purposes are to collect, preserve, and display works produced by Alberta artists. Supported by an annual grant of $50,000 from the province and aided by administrative support from the Visual Arts Branch of Alberta Culture, the Alberta Art Foundation encourages many Alberta artists by regular exhibition of their work as well as by permanent collection.

Professor Yates will serve as a Chairman of a nine-member board. Members of the board are appointed for three-year terms so that only one-third of the members retire each year. Mr. Yates's duties will entail speaking at conferences to explain the purposes of the Alberta Art Foundation, attending exhibition openings, and consulting with artists and representatives of various organizations.

CUSO FIFTEEN YEARS ON

CUSO is in its fifteenth year as an independent development agency. Since CUSO—Canadian University Service Overseas—began in 1961, over 5,000 Canadian volunteers have helped to teach or train people in sixty-six countries.

The effectiveness and success of CUSO can be attributed to the fact that the host countries determine the type of volunteers needed and, with CUSO field staff, maintain reviews of the function being served by CUSO volunteers. The volunteers, therefore, can be reasonably assured that their contribution to the host country is a valuable and necessary one, while host countries are also assured of getting the type of help they need most. When the needs of a country no longer justify the continued placement of available CUSO volunteers, those volunteers are sent where the need is greater. This efficiency is perhaps an example of Buckminster Fuller's "doing more with less."

The CUSO Office in University Hall carries out local recruitment of volunteers, manages the initial selection process, and sponsors the local fund-raising activities that help CUSO to retain its independence, as well as public education activities. The national office in Ottawa processes requests for personnel and directs the requests to local representatives in universities and colleges. After the initial screening of applicants, volunteers are chosen by a team of recruiters. CUSO workers generally must combine training with a practical application of their skills in the fields of technology, education, health services, agriculture, and business.

This year the CUSO Office received sixty-two new candidates and placed eighteen of them; eight more will be placed in the new year. In all, there are about 900 Canadians working overseas as CUSO volunteers. Compared with last year's estimated total of 1,200 volunteers, this year's total looks low. But, as Carroll Burkard of CUSO explains, there are three reasons for this drop. First, the Third World countries are requesting more volunteers with technical training, for example mechanics. Second, those who have such skills are very often people with spouses, whom CUSO also prefers to be placed, and school-age children whose schooling may be made difficult by rural placements. Third, however, is a change within CUSO itself. In response to the evolving needs of host countries, CUSO, in the past year most noticeably, has been providing more financial and material support for development projects initiated and directed by Third World agencies themselves. To this end, it has set up a Projects Division to serve managerial and financial functions.

The funding of projects that CUSO participates in may be shared between CUSO and the host country (CUSO providing $1 for every $3 provided by the host country), or CUSO may undertake to raise funds from CIDA and the private sector. Individuals, service organizations, universities, and foundations may sponsor projects (CUSO is a registered charity).

A CUSO information pamphlet lists these projects as typical:

1. Providing the capital costs for the construction of a nutrition centre in Laos serving as a community centre for a school feeding and nutrition education program.
2. Improving employment in the rural areas by making honey production in Tanzania a commercial venture.
3. Funding the purchase of fishing equipment, canoes, and freezers for the Porebada Fishing Society in Papua/New Guinea and to provide employment for an additional fifteen people.
4. Building a vocational centre in Trinidad housing the already on-going vocational training programs for young people as well as on-going primary health, dental, and legal aid services, and recreational and cultural activities in a recently completed slum rehabilitation area.

The increasing capability of Third World nations to help themselves may be a sign that CUSO and similar organizations do indeed fulfill the aim "to create mechanisms by which growth, productivity, and employment are shared equally among the nations of the world." Logically, then, there may come a time when CUSO is no longer needed; nevertheless, although the number of volunteers serving this year is lower, University graduates, and others, may still work with CUSO for two years in the Caribbean, South America, Africa, Asia, and the South Pacific.

The following list is of CUSO volunteers recruited by the University Office in 1975-76 and now serving overseas.

- Dale Armstrong, DVM from the Saskatchewan College of Veterinary Medicine, received his BSc Agriculture (Animal Science) from this University in 1969. Dr. Armstrong will be working in Barbados.

- Michelle Armstrong, BA 1971 and professional diploma after the degree in 1972, will accompany her husband to Barbados where a teaching position will be sought for her.

- Sharilyn Burns received her BA in History in 1971 and her teaching diploma in 1972.

She has been teaching in Alberta and is now teaching in Papua/New Guinea.

- Peter Drabble received a BSc (Special) in Chemistry this spring. Peter is now teaching in Papua/New Guinea.

- Brian Flanagan is teaching mathematics in northern Nigeria. Brian received a bachelor's degree in Mathematics from McGill in 1972 and a BA in Economics from this University in 1975.

- Michael Kardash is teaching chemistry in Ghana. Michael received a BSc (Special) in Chemistry this past spring.

- Lucy Klein-Gebbinck is teaching English in Papua/New Guinea. She received her BEd in 1975 and taught in Alberta before going abroad with CUSO.

- Phyllis Kornder and her husband David are teaching in Nigeria. Phyllis received a BA (Special) in English in 1975 and completed the requirements for a teaching diploma this spring. David Kornder received a BSc in Geology in 1973 and a professional diploma after the degree in 1974. He taught in the Edmonton Separate School System for the past two years. He will be teaching at a Teacher Training College in Bernin-Kebbi in Nigeria while Phyllis teaches at a girls' secondary school.

- Ted Milner received a BSc (Honours) in Physics in 1976. He is teaching in Nigeria.

- Sylvia Pynylo graduated with a BEd in 1965. She taught in Alberta for a number of years and is now on a CUSO teaching assignment in Nigeria.

- Keith Rimstad received a BA in History in 1975. Following the completion of the education diploma this spring, he began teaching in Zambia.

- Robert Schmidt is a CUSO volunteer for the second time. He received a BA in 1970, following which he taught for two years in Nigeria. Upon return to Canada he completed a BSc in Geology in 1976 and is now teaching in Sierra Leone.

- Roger Thomas received a BA in 1974 and a professional education diploma in 1976. Roger is teaching in Nigeria.

- Joyce Vandall has a BSc from Windsor, Ontario, and completed her professional diploma in education here in 1976. She will be teaching at a secondary school in Sierra Leone where her husband is teaching at a university.

- John Vandall has a BA from Windsor and completed his MSc in Geography here this summer. He is teaching at the Njala University in Sierra Leone.

- Kim Royal has a BSc in Animal Science (Agriculture) from the University. He received his degree in 1973 and has been working as a laboratory assistant here since then. Kim terminated his employment in October and will take up a teaching assignment at the University of Njala.

- Belinda Royal, wife of Kim Royal, received a BSc (General) in 1973. She is going to be teaching at a secondary school in Sierra Leone.

CUSO Used Book and Record Sale

CUSO is again holding a sale of used books and records, this year on 3 and 4 November. All donations should be made to the CUSO Office, 2-5 University Hall, by 1 November. The sale will be held on the main floor of the Central Academic Building, and all proceeds will be used to support CUSO projects.

STANDING COMMITTEE

The following Standing Committee of the President was omitted from the Register of Standing Committees, published in the 21 October issue of Folio.

Humanities and Social Sciences Research Grants Committee

Purpose: Administration of the Humanities and Social Sciences Research Fund from which grants-in-aid of research and travel to international conferences are made to members of the academic staff of the University.

WUSC CARAVAN

The World University Service of Canada (WUSC) will present its annual Caravan from 1 to 5 November in the SUB Art Gallery. Caravan is an exhibition and sale of handicrafts purchased directly by WUSC from community cooperatives in developing areas of the world. By eliminating numerous middle men, WUSC is able to offer cooperatives a higher price, thus supporting these self-help groups which provide employment for people in poorer areas of the world. Profits are used to provide financial assistance to other self-help groups, such as a medical student street clinic in Haiti, and the establishment of a private technical school for students in Zimbabwe.

All Caravan products are hand-crafted originals, rich in tradition and beautiful in design. Included are: beadwork, carvings, batiks, toys, carpets, alpaca knit sweaters, ponchos, and ruanas, originating in Thailand, Kenya, Sri Lanka, Ecuador, Lesotho, Camerouns, India, and with Indians and Eskimos of Canada. These products are sold only on Canadian university campuses and make fine household decorations and unique Christmas gifts.

The Caravan will be open from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. every day from Monday 1 November until Friday 5 November in the Art Gallery of SUB. Everyone is invited to come and browse; even if you buy nothing, the exhibition is well worth seeing.

VISITORS

■ Vernon Barger of the University of Wisconsin (Madison) recently visited the Theoretical Physics Institute and delivered a paper on "Neutrino scattering and new quarks." Clifford M. Will of Stanford University lectured to the Institute on 20 October on "Relativistic gravity and binary pulsar."

PEOPLE

■ D.D. Betts, Director of the Theoretical Physics Institute, attended the triennial International Conference on Magnetism in Amsterdam in September. Dr. Betts was a session chairman; he also presented an invited paper entitled "Critical properties of the XY model." The XY model is a novel type of magnet, the properties of which have been under detailed theoretical investigation by Dr. Betts and his students and Post Doctoral Fellows during the past few years. The theoretical predictions of the University of Alberta group have recently been verified on real magnetic substances in experiments by L.J. de Jongh and his group at the Kammerlingh-Onnes Laboratory at the University of Leiden. After the conference, Dr. Betts was an invited visitor for three days at the University of Leiden.

■ Albert La France, Assistant Professor of Music at Collège Universitaire Saint-Jean, conducted a workshop at an International Choral Festival at the University of Sherbrooke last August. Under his direction, the workshop prepared and performed the Gloria by Vivaldi. In September, Professor La France was elected national president of Le Collège des Instructeurs de l'Alliance Chorale Canadienne at a meeting in Quebec City.

■ Bernard Schwartz of the Department of Elementary Education was invited to coordinate the forum on photography in visual arts education at the Four Corners States Conference of the National Art Education Association at Tucson, Arizona. He presented an address on the design and implications of a program in visual communications for children that uses the medium of still photography.

■ Gerald Lock, Dean of Interdisciplinary Studies, was elected Senior Vice-President of the Canadian Society for Mechanical Engineering at the Annual General Meeting in Halifax.

■ The staff of the Early Education Project—A. Hillyard, K. Daly, G. Iriye, L. McDonald, J. Taylor, S. McDonald, and M. Doxsey-Whitfield—presented a symposium in Saskatoon for the Second Annual Congress of the Canadian Committee, Council for Exceptional Children, on 23 October. The Early Education Project is a home and school program for infants and preschoolers with Down's syndrome or other developmentally handicapping conditions. The program is designed to assist the children in attaining more normal growth and development. This project is coordinated by Gerald M. Kysela and is funded by Alberta Education, Early Childhood Services and Planning and Research, through the Centre for the Study of Mental Retardation.

■ E.R. Kanasewich, Professor of Physics, has been asked for permission to have his Time and Sequence Analysis in Geophysics translated into Russian. The book, published by the University of Alberta Press, is a North American bestseller. If satisfactory arrangements can be made, it will be published in Moscow by State Publishing House Mir.

■ Sheila Bertram, Associate Professor of Library Science, and Charles H. Davis, Dean of the Faculty of Library Science, attended the recent meetings of the Western Canada Chapter of the American Society for Information Science. Dr. Bertram is the immediate Past Chairman of the Chapter. Dr. Davis also attended the annual meeting of the ASIS in San Francisco where he was reappointed Chairman of the Society's Subcommittee on Formal Academic Programs. He was also the invited speaker at a colloquium held by the University of Oregon School of Librarianship on 6 October. Dr. Davis spoke on "The impact of the computer on modern librarianship."

■ Tom Priestly, Associate Professor of Slavic languages, read a paper at a session on Slovene Linguistics at the annual meetings of the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies held in St. Louis, Missouri.

■ J.P. Das of the Centre for the Study of Mental Retardation has been elected by the Council of Representatives to initial Fellow status in the American Psychological Association. The election took place at the 1976 Annual Meeting held in Washington, D.C. and will become effective on 1 January 1977.

■ Margot McBurney, Head of Acquisitions Division, Cameron Library, attended the Annual Meeting of the American Society for Information Science in San Francisco recently. Her election as Councillor-at-large for 1976-79 was announced at the meeting. She is also Chairman of the Western Canada Chapter of the ASIS. Also attending the meeting were Lynn Parker, Reference Librarian, Education Library, and Marianne Jamieson, Head, Processing Section, Cameron Library. Mrs. Jamieson was elected Secretary of the Western Canada Chapter of ASIS for 1976-79.

BOOKS

■ An Anthology of Ukrainian Poetry in Canada, 1898-1973, compiled and edited by Yar Slavutych, Associate Professor of Slavic Languages, has been published by the Ukrainian Writers' Association Slovo. The book contains biographical and bibliographical sketches of forty-five poets and selections of their poetry.

NOTICES

BOREAL INSTITUTE HOURS

The Boreal Institute for Northern Studies Library has had extended hours since 12 October 1976 and is in operation from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday.

COALITION FOR IMPROVED DAY CARE

The Coalition for Improved Day Care, a group of concerned citizens, is working with Edmonton Day Care Services to present a brief to the provincial government on 15 November. The brief will demand day care funding increases and an upgrading of the proposed standards. Petitions are available at central points on the campus: Student's Union Building, first floor students' lounge of the Education Centre, the first floor of the Humanities Centre, and the Dean of Students' Office. All interested persons are asked to give their support.

DIAL-A-DIETITIAN

Dial-a-Dietitian is a public service carried out by the Alberta Registered Dietitians Association. The service allows persons to call 439-4442 (an answering service) and ask questions about nutrition, planning adequate meals, purchasing, storing, or handling of foods, food labelling and additives, preparing and cooking new convenience foods, and similar topics. Within forty-eight hours, a volunteer registered dietitian will call back with the researched answer to the question.

The purpose of Dial-a-Dietitian is to provide the public with an authoritative source of nutrition information. The service is free of charge to all Edmonton and area residents. Dial-a-Dietitian operates from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, holidays excepted.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU

The Speakers' Bureau helps organizations to engage speakers for their meetings. For more detailed information or brochures, contact the Public Relations Office, 855 General Services Building, telephone 432-4201.

SCIENCE DINING CLUB

The Science Dining Club will meet at 6 p.m. on 10 November to hear speaker J.T. Ryan, Department of Chemical Engineering, lecture on "Oil and gas—current account or saving account?" Dinner will follow the lecture in the Saskatchewan Room of the Faculty Club. Reservations must be made by 8 November with Ms. Banchak, telephone 432-4765.

COMMITTEE VACANCY

The General Faculties Council Nominating Committee is seeking nominations for one member to be elected by GFC to serve on the Selection Committee for Chairman of the Department of Electrical Engineering. Regulations governing the composition of Selection Committees for Chairmen require that one member, not a member of the Department concerned, be elected by GFC.

Those who have suggestions for nominations or who are interested in serving on this committee are requested to contact the Secretary of the Nominating Committee, L. Plaskitt, 1-15 University Hall, telephone 432-4715.

ALTERATIONS IN THE EDUCATION LIBRARY

The following notice has been received from G.G. Turner, Associate Librarian.

Beginning 25 October, and continuing until approximately 10 December, the main floor of the Education Library will be undergoing major alterations to the physical arrangement. Staff will endeavor to keep user inconvenience to a minimum, although, as in all undertakings of this kind, there is likely to be some unavoidable disruption of service.

It is suggested that those patrons who require an undisturbed setting should use other floors of the Education Library or other libraries on campus for the duration of the alterations.

SCANDINAVIAN SEMINAR

Scandinavian Seminar is now accepting applications for its study abroad program in Denmark, Finland, Norway, or Sweden for the academic year 1977-78. The program is designed for college students, graduates, and other adults who want to become part of another culture while acquiring a second language.

An initial three-week language course, followed by a family stay whenever possible, will give the student opportunity to practice the language on a daily basis and to share in the life of the community. For the major part of the year, the student is separated from fellow non-Scandinavian students and lives and studies among Scandinavians at a People's College (residential school for continuing adult education) or some other specialized institution.

All Seminar students participate in the Introductory, Mid-year, and Final Sessions, where matters related to their studies, experiences, and individual progress are reviewed and discussed. The focus of the Scandinavian Seminar program is an Independent Study Project in the student's own field of interest.

The fee, covering tuition, room, board, one-way group transportation from New York, and all course-connected travels in Scandinavia is $3,800. A limited number of scholarship loans are available. For further information please write to: Scandinavian Seminar, 100 East 85th Street, New York, NY 10028.

NON-CREDIT COURSES

MARKETING FOR WRITERS

The Faculty of Extension will hold a workshop, Marketing for Writers, on 30 October. It will provide amateur writers with information about how to get works into print or on the air. Writers of short or book-length fiction, poetry, and non-fiction, of radio and of television scripts are invited to meet publishers, broadcasters, and successful writers to discuss ways in which people who work in these media become recognized.

The day will include formal presentations, a questions and answer session, and an opportunity for informal discussions with other writers and resource people over lunch. Resource persons will be Dolores MacFarland of CBC, Allan Shute of Tree Frog Press, Eva Carlson of Hurtig Publishers, Wally Kirk of CITV, and Myrna Kostash, a free-lance writer.

The workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $20 including lunch at the Faculty Club. Further information may be obtained by calling 932-3033.

WOMEN IN MANAGEMENT

A seminar especially for women who wish to develop their managerial skills will begin on 3 December. Women in Management has as its objectives the identification and exploration of issues women face in management, assessment and practice of essential managerial skills, and the provision of a suitable environment for problem solving.

The seminar will be held all day 3 December and 9 December, and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on 10 December. Among the topics to be covered will be the role of a manager, managerial assumptions, roles and alternative managerial styles, goal setting and Management by Objectives, and career planning. The program will be a combination of experiential learning and class discussion.

Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $100 and includes luncheons. The registration deadline is 26 November. Additional information is available by calling 432-5066.

HERITAGE CONSERVATION TOUR OF ENGLAND

The Faculty of Extension will offer a Heritage Conservation Study Tour of England in May 1977. The tour is designed especially for those involved in heritage conservation efforts through their work in both public and private sectors or through their active support of conservation programs.

England offers an exemplary selection of heritage conservation projects for study which includes old towns, living museums, open-air museums, architectural restorations, and industrial monuments. The tour is planned to give Canadian conservationists an opportunity to investigate some of the finest examples in each category and to discuss conservation issues with British experts and administrators in the field. The itinerary will include the Ironbridge Gorge Museum Trust Area, the Gladstone Pottery Museum, and a model old town. An Alberta conservationist will accompany the tour and provide pre-tour and en-route seminars on conservation topics. The tour is planned for two weeks. Details about costs, exact dates, and itinerary will be available by 1 December. For further information telephone 432-5064 or 432-5055.

MANAGEMENT UPDATE

A two-day seminar, Management Update, is scheduled for 25 and 26 November. It will be of interest to managers who wish to learn more about management or who want to refresh their outlook. Among the topics to be covered are motivation, delegation, role definition, communication barriers, planning, information systems, interpersonal relationships, and aspects of control. While the content will emphasize basic concepts, topics will vary according to the interests of the students and the time available.

William A. Presling, Director of Institutional Research and Planning, will conduct the seminar. He is author of the text that will be used for the seminar, Business Management in Canada: An Introduction. Registrations are accepted in 228 Corbett Hall. The fee is $100 including textbook and luncheons. Additional information may be obtained by calling 432-5066 or 432-5067.

ALBERTA CULTURE CRAFT WORKSHOPS

Alberta Culture is offering intensive immersion courses in a variety of crafts, including ceramics, weaving, drawing, painting, copper enameling, and creative stitchery and fabric arts. The five-day workshops are designed to provide professional technical guidance to craftsmen and to develop the leadership that will allow artists to pass on their knowledge to others. All courses are being held during November at the Forest Technology School in Hinton. As residency programs, they will involve extensive studio work, lectures, films, and seminars. Single course registration fee is $17.50; accommodation and meals for five days and five nights is $50. Applications are now being accepted on a first come, first served basis. For information and registration forms contact Alberta Culture, Visual Arts Branch, 11650 142 Street, telephone 427-2031.

RESEARCH GRANTS

All inquiries regarding the following grants should be directed to G. Holmes, Research Grants and Contracts Office, 3-31 University Hall, telephone 432-5360.

Granting Agencies: Application Deadlines

This list of deadline dates for submissions to granting agencies for research funds, exchange programs, and travel grants is published every month in Folio. In order to allow sufficient time for processing, all applications should reach the Research Grants and Contracts Office at least ten days before the deadline date. Where other University resources are involved, the time requirement may be much longer than ten days and such applications should therefore be submitted well in advance. An extra copy of the application should be provided for the Research Grants and Contracts Office.

Further information may be obtained by consulting the Calendar of Granting Agencies for Research Funds, Exchange Programs, and Travel Grants, which is available in the offices of Deans, Directors of Institutes and Centres, and Department Chairmen, or by phoning the Research Grants and Contracts Office, 432-5360. Note: Although the Calendar is updated on a continuous basis, the following information could be subject to change without notice. If staff members have advanced information on forthcoming changes, the Research Grants and Contracts Office would appreciate being advised.
